

Empowering autistic voice and choice [1]

7 et 8 mars 2018 - Harrogate Convention Centre, Harrogate (Royaume-Uni)

Conférence professionnelle annuelle organisée par la National Autistic Society (NAS). Avec la participation de nombreux praticiens et chercheurs, parmi lesquels Anna Remington (UCL Institute of Education), Caroline Richards (University of Birmingham), Iain McClure (University of Edinburgh)... À noter, parmi les nombreux thèmes abordés :

- Thinking differently about provision for autistic children in early years and primary education ;
- What to do if conventional education isn't meeting their needs? Thinking out of the box about provision for autistic pupils ;
- Supporting autistic students through the transition to university and with university life ;
- Use of technology (AAC) with children with severe communication impairments and challenging behaviour.
